

MORRISON WINS STANDARD OIL CASE FOR THE GOVERNMENT

COURT ORDERS STANDARD OIL COMPANY DISSOLVED, DECLARING IT ILLEGAL AND ITS ACTS IN VIOLATION OF THE SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW.

DECISION WAS RENDERED BY THE UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT THIS MORNING

Great Triumph for Mr. Morrison and His Associates, Dixon Attorney Winning One of the Hardest Fought Cases Ever Tried by the Government—Suit Was Started Against John D. Rockefeller and His Interests in 1906 and Pushed With Energy—May Be Appealed to United States Supreme Court.

St. Paul, Nov. 20—Special to Evening Telegraph—The government wins the suit against the Standard Oil company and the United States circuit court has ordered the company dissolved, declaring it to be illegal. The decree of the court takes effect in thirty days, unless suspended by an appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

The case of the United States vs. John D. Rockefeller and six individual defendants and the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and Seventy Subsidiary corporations, was decided in favor of the government at St. Louis today. This decision was a very sweeping one, sustaining the contention of the government in every material particular, though some of the unimportant subsidiary companies were not held.

The court holds that the individual defendants and the 70 corporation defendants are now engaged in a conspiracy in restraint of interstate trade and commerce in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law. The court enjoins the individual defendants from owning and holding the stock of the other corporations, and enjoins them from collecting any dividends whatever upon these stocks.

The suit was commenced by the government in November, 1906, the bill was filed in the Federal circuit court in St. Louis and was tried under what is known as the Expedition act before the four circuit judges of the 8th circuit. The testimony was taken before special examiners appointed by the court at various centers throughout the United States, about two years being consumed for that purpose. The testimony was then reported to the court at St. Louis and on the 5th of April the trial commenced and lasted about 10 days. The case was then taken under advisement by the court and a decision was announced this morning.

Morrison Hears News.

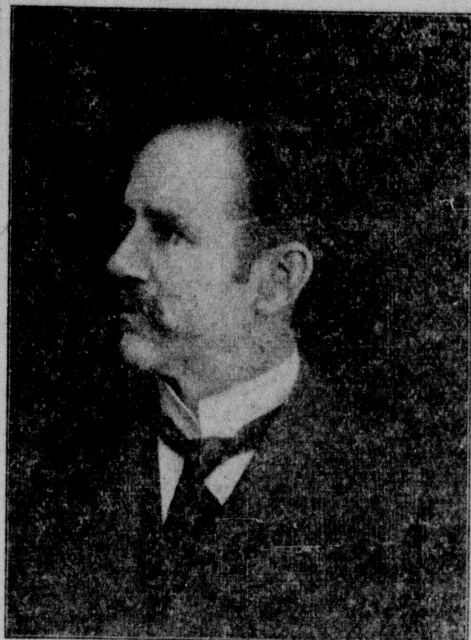

When Charles B. Morrison was told of the court's decision he was in his office in this city, having arrived home from Chicago last evening. The word came to him over the long distance telephone from the United Press in Chicago. The word reached Chicago from St. Louis early this morning and the newspapers got busy on the job, for it means one of the most important stories for the Sunday editions.

This is another instance where the Telegraph puts it over the metropolitan papers in giving to the public the first account of a great news story.

Morrison Non-Committal.

As usual Mr. Morrison is non-committal. Apparently he is delighted with the court's decision, for to him it means honor and great reputation as a leading attorney of the United States.

Mr. Morrison spent more than two years in getting the testimony in shape for the trial of the case. The testimony makes 24 large volumes. He spent considerable time in New York and New Jersey and at the capital city of the nation taking testimony.

St. Louis was selected as the place to try the case because it was central, although the case could have been tried in any place in the country.

The judges who comprise the 8th circuit are Judges Hook of Kansas, Adams of St. Louis, Vandeventer of Wyoming and Sanborn of St. Paul. All of the four concur in the decision.

Great Lawyers in Case.

The leading lawyers in the country were directly interested in the trial of this important case. The government was represented by Charles B. Morrison of Dixon, Frank E. Kellogg of St. Paul and J. Harwood Graves of Washington, who is connected with the department of justice.

The defendants were represented by Moritz Rosenthal of Dixon, John S. Miller of New York, David Watson of Pittsburgh, John G. Johnson of Philadelphia and other regular attorneys employed by the Standard Oil company.

KUMOR SAYS WILL FREY WILL BE RECOMMENDED

C. H. NOBLE SAYS HE HELD COMMUNICATION WITH COL. LOWDEN TODAY.

It was rumored today that Wm. Frey will receive the recommendation of Congressman Lowden for the office of postmaster at Dixon. Mr. Frey states that he was congratulated by Mr. Noble, who said that he was in communication with the congressman this morning and informed Mr. Frey that the congressman had made up his mind to recommend Mr. Frey.

Mr. Frey has received no word from Mr. Lowden.

The Telegraph does not vouch for the correctness of this information, as it was impossible to locate either Congressman Lowden or his secretary, Mr. Cowley, by phone this afternoon.

W. B. Brinton was in Chicago on business Friday.

A. M. Shaw arrived home from the east last evening.

Joseph Barry arrived home today to spend Sunday with friends and relatives.

J. J. Bishop returned from Morrison today.

RICHARD PARR, TREASURY AGENT WHO FERRETED OUT SUGAR FRAUDS; REFINERY WHERE FALSE WEIGHING WAS DONE.

Seven men formerly employed by the sugar trust at one of its plants in Brooklyn have been arraigned for trial in the United States district court in New York. President Taft has ordered the investigation of the sugar trust to continue until the men "higher up" are reached, and Speaker Cannon has threatened a congressional investigation of the irregularities in sugar importations that led to the big scandal. The most important witness before the grand jury in the further investigations of the sugar cases is Richard Parr, who as a special agent of the treasury department was instrumental in exposing the false weighing on the sugar trust's docks. Parr is now in the customs department in New York. He is ready to tell the grand jury that he was hindered in his work by government officials at Washington, and a further sensation is expected when his complete story is published.

DIRECT PRIMARY FULLY DISCUSSED

INTERESTING MEETING OF MEN'S CLUB HELD AT THE Y. M. C. A.

SENATOR W. C. JONES EXPLAINS

Author of Bill Tells of Difficulties of Primary Legislation and Benefits.

The affair given last evening by the Men's club of the Y. M. C. A. at the association building evolved itself into a regular old fashioned Methodist testimonial meeting, at which everybody told how they felt about the problems in question.

The primary law proposition was thoroughly discussed pro and con, and all pronounced the meeting one of the most interesting ever held by the club.

Circuit Clerk W. B. McMahan acted as toastmaster.

John H. Byers, in a few remarks, opened the meeting. He was followed by Attorney H. C. Warner who spoke briefly but forcibly against the direct primary law. Mr. Warner was followed by the speaker of the evening, Senator W. Clyde Jones of Chicago.

Senator Jones is unquestionably in favor of a direct primary law and believes it will be the only salvation for the foes of corrupt government. The senator is well versed in governmental affairs and delivered one of the most scholarly addresses ever listened to in this city. He reviewed the life of each political party from the infancy of the nation. He told how each step was taken toward a better method of nominating candidates for public office. He showed that in the early days of the country political leaders quarreled among themselves in trying to solve the current political problem, and today he sees the same condition existing among the leaders of the various parties as existed then. He maintains that political leaders will always find fault with each other's ideas on governmental questions.

People in Favor of Law.

Senator Jones believes that the majority of voters of Illinois favor a

STATES ATTORNEY MAY TRY GAMBLING CASES TODAY

EDWARDS IS IN AMBOY LOOKING AFTER SOME CRIMINAL MATTERS.

States Attorney Harry Edwards came home from Amboy last evening and returned this morning to continue his work on the gambling cases now on trial there. The case of City of Amboy vs. Lewis Eddy resulted in a verdict fining the defendant $10 and costs. The next case will be City of Amboy vs. Payne. It is expected that they will try one of the state cases this afternoon.

DIXON MAN IS DESERTED BY WIFE

MOLINE PAPER SAYS MRS. BUCHANAN HAS LEFT HER HUSBAND.

MARRIED BUT SEVEN MONTHS

Lived in Dixon Until a Week Ago. When They Moved to Rock Island.

According to the Moline Mail, E. Buchanan, of Dixon, has been deserted at Rock Island by his young wife whom he married in Dixon seven months ago.

The Moline paper's account of the occurrence follows:

"Your wife is eloping. Hurry home!"

This is the message which E. Buchanan of Rock Island says came Wednesday morning while he was at work at the Rock Island sash and door works. Arriving home Buchanan found things turned upside down and his wife gone. He says she carried with her various articles, and among them being his gold watch and ring and a set of silver knives, forks and spoons. Buchanan claims to have evidence that Mrs. Irene Buchanan, a pretty blonde bride, departed with a man supposed to be Wayne Berryford, who works in a Rock Island restaurant, and he also is missing.

Buchanan's story in part follows: "The last time I saw my wife was Wednesday morning at 6:30 when I left for work. At that time she was occupied as usual. When I received the message I hurried to our rooms to find that I was too late. She was gone."

"My home is in Dixon and we moved to Rock Island only a week ago. It was seven months ago we were united in marriage by Father Foley in Dixon. My wife is a Kirkwood, Ill. girl."

Mrs. Buchanan is a pretty girl, but 18 years old. She is a brunette about 5 feet, 6 inches tall.

CHERRY TORN WITH EXCITEMENT

Doctors Are Being Hurried to Cherry—One Hundred Bodies Are Located.

LaMoille, Ill., Nov. 20—Special to Evening Telegraph—Forty-two live men were taken from the Cherry mine at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Doctors are being hurried to Cherry as rapidly as possible. The town is all excitement. The officials now believe that many of the entombed miners are alive and everything will be done as quickly as possible to reach them today and Sunday. The fires are extinguished.

While the work of bringing out the 100 dead bodies discovered in the second level of the St. Paul mine tomb was in progress today searching parties prepared to explore the third level in response to the demands of hopeful miners who contend that some of the entombed men may still live behind the trap doors and cave-in of the far workings.

Widows and children of the 300 or more men were early on the scene and kept the militia on the alert by their frantic efforts to draw near the shaft for a first glimpse of the bodies as they were brought to the surface.

More than 100 bodies have been found in all, according to inside information obtained early today and they are not, in most instances, seriously disfigured.

CAPITALIST HERE TO INVESTIGATE

MILWAUKEE MAN WAS HERE TO WITNESS TEST OF CONDON BLOCK SIGNAL SYSTEM

MAY ORGANIZE STOCK COMPANY

Several Railroad Men and Capitalists About Ready to Take Up Invention.

Theo. Schilling, Milwaukee, president of the Milwaukee Bedding company, was here Friday afternoon to make an investigation of the Condon Automatic Block Signal System.

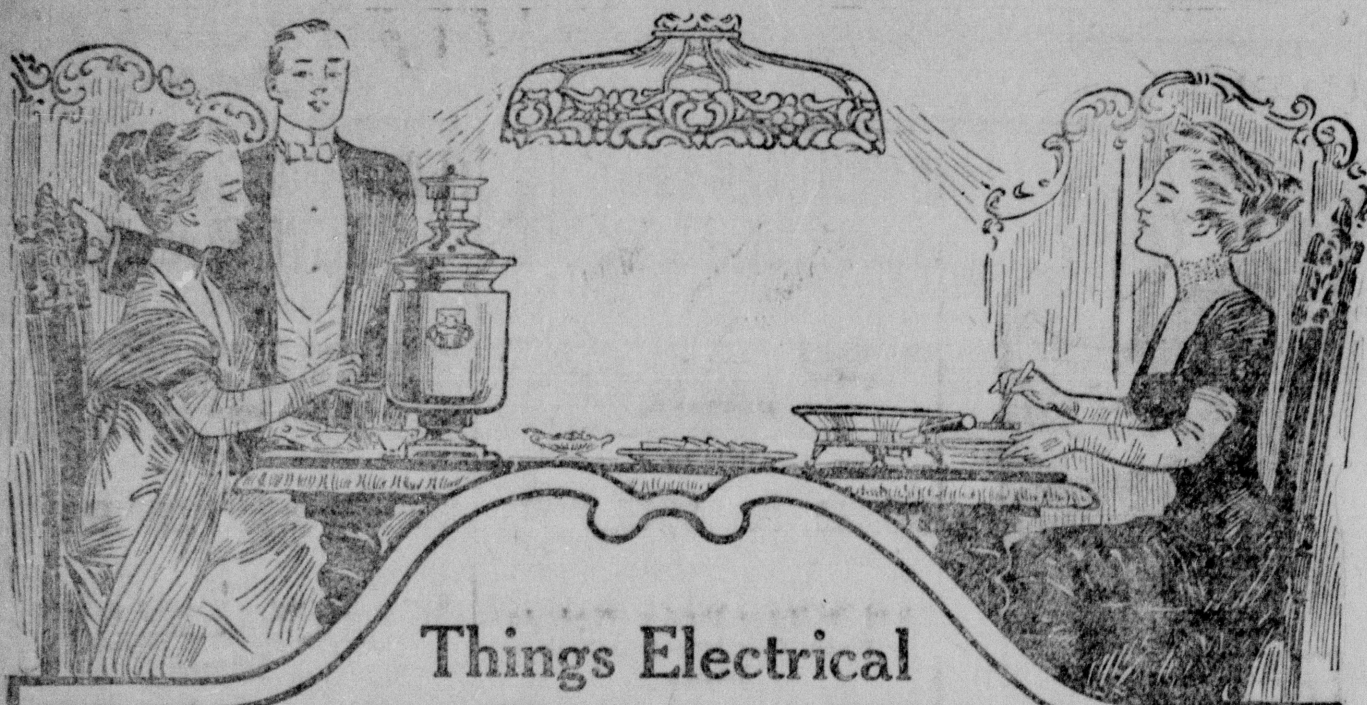

Mr. Schilling arrived here at 4 p. m. and was taken in a special interurban car to near the milk factory, the location of the signal system. Accompanying him were E. J. Condon, Chas. E. Keyes, Supt. Hendricks of the electric road and a representative of the Evening Telegraph. A complete test of the system was made, and it worked to perfection. Mr. Schilling informed the Telegraph representative that he was highly pleased with the system and expressed a willingness to return to Dixon again and remain not only to see a test made but to study the intricate makeup of the apparatus.

Aside from being a manufacturer, Mr. Schilling is a capitalist and while he did not say so, his mission here yesterday was to make an investigation with a view of interesting himself in the organization of a stock company.

In about a week other capitalists interested in the system will come to Dixon to make a careful investigation with a view of interesting themselves in the system.

Every railroad man who has seen the signal in operation goes from here well pleased with the Condon system. Several have gone so far as to pronounce it the best signal system ever invented.

Mrs. Minnie Adams went to Franklin Grove this morning to visit relatives.

RAILWAY MEN GO OVER THE LINE BETWEEN DIXON AND FREEPORT.

The Freeport Standard says the proposed Freeport interurban railway company of which little has been heard for some time, is likely to be again revived, with the result that definite action may be taken. For some time the Freeport to Dixon interurban line has been much talked of but nothing definite accomplished. However, it was learned that C. W. McGuire and A. J. Whipple, the Chicago men who were said to be here for the purpose of negotiating for the sale of the gas company have become interested in the Freeport to Dixon interurban. These men, in company with O. T. Smith, one of the promoters will leave tomorrow morning for Dixon, making a complete inspection of the proposed interurban route. Both Chicago men represent moneyed men and mean business.

There was a large attendance at the special meeting of the Modern Brotherhood of America, which was held at their hall last evening. The meeting was addressed by District Deputy J. M. L. There were only three other of the 171 orders in the United States that had a larger increase in membership. Up to date the Modern Brotherhood of America for the ten months of this year had a larger increase than that of last year. Mr. Donaldson went to Franklin Grove this morning. He will be in Dixon and Sterling for the next two weeks in the interest of the order.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF TRADE

Good Weather Conditions Result in Mercantile Liveliness, Says Dun's.

New York, Nov. 20.—Dispatches to Dun's Review indicate that business quickly responds to lower temperatures, and there is now less complaint of adverse weather conditions.

Satisfactory reports are received from the majority of centers. Manufacturers are very busy, especially in clothing and footwear. Orders for spring delivery aggregate a good volume and holiday trade is very satisfactory. All lines of retail trade continue fairly active.

Business generally is regarded as satisfactory and the upward tendency of prices appears to exert no adverse influence.

Bank exchanges this week at all leading cities in the United States are $3,177,661,694, a gain of 1.3 per cent over last year. At every city except Cincinnati and New York large increases are shown.

Her contribution of 60,000 oranges, stacked in golden pyramids twenty feet high, attracted attention among buyers and was auctioned at high prices.

$500,000,800 RAIL MERGER REPORTED

Edwin Hawley Said To Be Organizing Big Corporation.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—St. Louis financiers are discussing a report that Edwin Hawley is organizing a $500,000,800 holding corporation to include the St. Louis and San Francisco, Chicago and Alton, Missouri, Kansas and Texas.

Edwin Hawley, Chesapeake and Ohio, Toledo, St. Louis and Western, Iowa Central, Colorado Southern, Minneapolis and St. Louis, and Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway companies.

These roads have a total of more than 25,000 miles, reaching from Minneapolis to Kansas City, Chicago, Newport News and Galveston.

That a transcontinental system also will be formed through a traffic arrangement with the James J. Hill railroad interests is considered a strong probability.

MACKAY SAYS POSTAL STILL IS INDEPENDENT

States Stock in American Company Is an Investment.

New York, Nov. 20.—Clarence H. Mackay, president of the Mackay cable and telegraph companies, has issued this statement:

"We have nothing to do directly or indirectly with the combination of the American Telephone and Telegraph company with the Western Union company. We have not wished to join it, and have not been asked to join it."

It is true that we own a large block of stock of the American company, but that is one of our many investments.

"We have waited until this matter has simmered down so that we could make one statement covering the whole subject. Competition will continue and it will be real competition."

SHOCKING SCENES AT CHERRY

Brave Men Continue to Risk Their Lives in the Galleries and Drifts Where Over 300 Toilers Were Entombed Amid Flames and Deadly Gases—American Federation of Labor Is Making a Thorough Investigation of the Catastrophe.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 20.—Rescue parties have brought up four more bodies of victims of the St. Paul mine horror from their smoldering tomb, making five thus far recovered. All have been identified. They were taken out at the cost of hours of labor in stifling gas, and in constant peril of death from fire and cave-ins.

An extraordinary session of the Illinois legislature to furnish relief, and conduct an investigation into the disaster has been suggested. A fund of $25,000 is planned, and it is thought likely that the season will be called.

Men, mules and working coal are mixed in the great piles that block the galleries. Collapse of the ceiling around the shafts has probably buried many of the miners. Others are supposed to be floating in the water that has half filled the third vein. Not for ten days can the great mass of bodies be brought up. Three shifts of rescuers are at work.

Federation is investigating. While the fire in the mine had been partly extinguished, due chiefly to the heroic efforts of the Chicago firemen, it was blazing in many parts of the workings, and every man who went down the shaft took his life in his hands.

At the same time it became known that the American Federation of Labor had started a sweeping secret investigation into the catastrophe, independent of all other inquiries. Attorney Seymour Siedman of Chicago arrived down the shaft and began interrogating witnesses and gathering evidence for the Federation.

Tragic scenes took place when the crowds massed around the shaft house behind the door, almost reduced to cinders. Widows of the victims went mad with horror.

Body of Boy Recovered.

One of the identified dead was a boy of fifteen, one year under the legal age, who worked in the mine in violation of the child labor law.

Among the identified dead are:

GEORGE McMULLEN, twenty-three years old; body burned to crisp; identified by wife, who was led away screaming.

HENRY KROLL, sixty-two years old; worker in upper vein; identified by Mrs. Lorus Windbickler, a relative.

ALFRED KROLL, fifteen years old; trapper boy; son of Henry Kroll; identified by Mrs. Windbickler.

CHARLES WAITE, night pit boss; forty-five years old; married, three children.

Mrs. Brosangst, who lost her husband and brother in the mine, went mad with horror at the sight of the first bodies brought up from the mine. She shrieked and wailed and became violent, and was led away by deputy sheriffs and nurses.

Mine Employees Assess Themselves.

Ray City, Mich., Nov. 20.—The 300 employees of the Robert Gage coal mine have assessed themselves 50 cents each for relief of the stricken families at Cherry, Ill. It is expected that all of the 7,600 miners in this vicinity will take similar action.

SAFE CRACKERS ARE FOILED

Inner Door of Bank Vault Forces Tool Stout For Their Exploits.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Household alarm possessors are searching for bank robbers near Ludlow, Ill., while all the Chicago trades are being watched by detectives.

The robbers were turned out of Ludlow after they had taken away the safe of a savings bank. It is there that while the outer door of the safe was wrecked, the inner door, in which was a large sum of money, held intact, thus baffling the cracksmen.

DOUGHERTY SUITS SETTLED

Dougherty, who was superintendent of schools, pleaded guilty to charges of embezzlement, and is now confined in the Joliet penitentiary.

Deneen's Spokesman Pleases.

Senator W. Clyde Jones, representing the Fifth senatorial district in the upper branch of the legislature of Illinois, addressed the Men's club of the Y. M. C. A. last evening on the primary system of nominating candidates.

Jones is the spokesman for Gov. Deneen on the legislative matters and what he said last evening is the idea of the chief executive. Jones and Deneen understand each other.

The address was a splendid effort and gave evidence of sincerity on the part of the speaker. He believes every word he said.

His address was one of the best reviews of national politics ever given in this city and he put the proposition in such a way that he was thoroughly understood by everyone.

Those who opposed the senator in his personal views must admit that he is well informed on the subject he discussed and that he is in close touch with governmental affairs not only in our own state but in other commonwealths as well.

He has drafted the bill which will be introduced in the special session of the legislature. The bill is almost ready now but he may have heard some things last evening which may induce him to trim the edges of the bill so as to be a bill which the people in the rural districts desire.

The local men who spoke in opposition to the senator's views are just as sincere in what they believe as he is. It must have been gratifying to the Chicago legislator, however, to know that the majority of his auditors hold the same views on the question that he does.

Senator Jones knows it is a difficult matter to draft a bill that will meet with the approval of all voters. He knows this to be an impossibility. But he is ready to support a bill which will meet the problem more than half way.

The Telegraph believes that the majority of the voters of Illinois want a primary law of some sort, but it is not ready to say that this law be a direct primary.

It is gratifying to the voters of Dixon to know there are men in the legislature of the type of Senator Jones. Were there more like him the people would get better results in the solution of problems in which they are deeply interested. The senator may not be right on all questions, but he is emphatically in line with the voters on the question of a primary.

The leader of the state senate is an example of a cultured gentleman and the kind of a man that people love to follow, and everything that might be said by men of his character is always appreciated.

STERLING FACTORY HAD THOUSAND DOLLAR FIRE

Sterling, Nov. 20—Special — A fire amounting to $1000 damage occurred at the Keystone works in this city Thursday afternoon. It was caused by a buggy tongue striking an electric light globe and breaking the globe over a varnish vat. The broken fragment caused a spark to ignite the benzine fumes. The men got busy and extinguished the fire.

Mrs. Swartz Entertained.

Mrs. Swartz entertained ten ladies and ten gentlemen of the Methodist church at her home last evening, at one of the missionary teas, proving so popular.

Willard Glee Club.

The Willard Glee club has changed its meeting nights from Tuesday to Monday nights and the next meeting will be held at the W. D. Drew home, 822 Peoria avenue, Monday evening.

Happy Home Circle.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 17, Mr. and Mrs. August Krug very pleasantly entertained the society at their home on West Chamberlain street. Different games were enjoyed, refreshments and fruit were served, about 30 members being present, and a very delightful evening was spent.

Surprise Party.

Miss Emily Clark was pleasantly surprised at her home on Highland avenue last evening, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. A most enjoyable evening was spent by the young folks, games, music and last but not least, the refreshments provided sources of pleasure.

Each guest brought Miss Emily a beautiful birthday card and she was also the recipient of other beautiful presents.

Alfred Bergen in Recital.

Felix Borowski, musical critic of the Chicago Record-Herald, gives an account in Friday's paper of a song recital given Tuesday evening by Alfred Bergen in Music Hall, Chicago. Mr. Bergen is well known in Dixon and gave a recital in the local Presbyterian church two or three years ago. In the criticism of the recital the critic says:

The recital attracted to Music Hall a gathering that was fairly numerous and generous of applause. That the enthusiasm of Mr. Bergen's listeners was founded on the real merit of his efforts it is pleasant to testify; for this singer put forward an act that disclosed uncommon worth and beauty, and art that took into account much that singers often leave out of their artistic calculations. Mr. Bergen sings with a voice of pleasant quality, particularly pleasant in mezza voice, and occasionally uncertain in the higher register when more than ordinary strain was put upon his resources. Charles Lurvey accompanied the singer with delicacy and judgment.

Concert a Success.

The concert given at the West Side Congregational church last evening was a pronounced success, both in attendance and program. Extra chairs were used to accommodate the audience. Every number on the program was greeted with hearty applause. Miss Rilla Webster's readings delighted every one and encores were called for each time she appeared. The sincere thanks of the choir is rendered all who contributed to the success of the concert.

The Villain's Teeth.

The two sets of false teeth looked just alike, but one set cost $10 more than the other. "There is a lot of extra work on those expensive teeth," said the dentist. "They are made for an actor who always plays the part of heavy villain in melodrama, and he has to have teeth that he can hiss with. I have experimented on three different sets of teeth before I got the combination. Somehow the nice, even teeth that I usually turn out wouldn't permit the sibilant 'ss-sses' that he deals in to escape with sufficient venom. You wouldn't believe how much tinkering it takes to lick teeth into shape for the 'deaths' and 'od's bloods' to sound just right. Of all the people I ever made teeth for the heavy stage villain is hardest to fit."—New York Press.

What is a Gentleman?

I'll have to give you the real definition of a real gentleman: "A man that's clean inside and out; who neither looks up to the rich nor down on the poor; who can lose without squealing and who can win without bragging; who is considerate of women, children and old people; who is too brave to lie, too generous to cheat and who takes his share of the world and lets other people have theirs."—New York Sun.

PROGRAM READY FOR THANKSGIVING

UNION SERVICE WILL BE HELD IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

REV. STONE TO BE THE SPEAKER

Hour Is Set for 10 o'Clock Sharp on the Morning of November Twenty-Fifth.

The Ministerial association has arranged the program for Thanksgiving day services. According to the regular order, the services go to the Christian church and Rev. Fred D. Stone of the Methodist church is to be the speaker. The hour will be 10 a. m. sharp, Thursday, Nov. 25th. The program follows: Voluntary, Clinton Fairney. Thanksgiving hymn, Congregation. Invocation. Scripture reading and prayer, Rev. Geo. Smith. Special music, chorus. Reading of Governor's Proclamation. Rev. A. A. Mainwaring. Reading of President's Proclamation. Rev. Olin F. Shaw. MUSICAL MISERY.

When Bagpipes Squeak Out "The Star Spangled Banner."

"I wish," growled a man who made a tour of the British isles, "that the British bandmasters would take a course of instruction in what constitutes the American national airs. Band concerts are the rage all over England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. During the summer season, probably as a compliment to the hordes of Americans who are flinging away gold for their benefit, they present daily what is generally dubbed 'American national airs.'"

"The majority of these bandmasters think 'Dixie' is the national air, because they sagely observe it is the only one which Americans applaud. The Star Spangled Banner is dismal and lugubrious enough under the best of circumstances, but to hear the Scotch bagpipes have a fling at it is indescribable misery. The man who wrote the 'Columbia' hymn would not know his own work as performed in Great Britain, and even the 'Kentucky Home' and other negro ballads get a touch between an Irish jig and a Scotch wail which robs the American visitor of any pleasure which he might experience in hearing songs from home. It may be that British, Scotch and Irish guests on this side of the water get as much discomfort in hearing 'Annie Laurie.' I hope they do, for it would establish a sort of international musical balance."—New York Press.

SLEEP SUPERSTITIONS.

How to Awaken at Any Hour You May Designate.

Sleep is the best cure for waking trouble.

Hours for sleep:

Nature gives five.

Custom seven.

Weariness takes nine.

Laziness eleven.

If you wish to arise at a certain hour, before going to bed make with your right foot as many marks on the floor as the hour on which you wish to wake, then go to bed backward.

To insure happy dreams burn some hazelnuts and do the ashes up in a package, which you must place beneath your pillow. You will then dream sweetly.

If you wish ever to marry, never look under the bed.

If a person talks in his sleep, put his hand in a bowl of water and he will tell you all his secrets.

The Hindoos say it is bad luck to sleep with your head to the north, but sleeping with your head to the south promotes longevity.

It is considered by some nations dangerous to sleep while thirsty, for the soul leaves the body in search of water, and if the body awakened too quickly the soul might not have time to return to it, so the body would die.

In Germany the nightmare is believed to be a spectral being which places itself upon the breast of the sleeper, depriving him of the power of utterance or motion.—Philadelphia Press.

Parks of Australian Cities.

Australians, with a fine climate, believe in enjoying themselves, and there are plenty of facilities. Thus in Sydney there are parks and squares and public gardens with a total area of 4,335 acres. Sixteen miles from the city—a shilling excursion train fare—is the picturesque national park, containing 36,810 acres preserved in their natural state. A similar reserve called Kurin-gal Chase, comprising 35,300 acres of land, chiefly of densely wooded hills skirting for many miles around numerous tidal arms of Broken bay, is also held for the enjoyment of the public forever. Melbourne has no fewer than 5,400 acres of recreation grounds in or near the city. Adelaide is surrounded by a belt of park lands and has about 2,300 acres set apart for the public benefit. Nor are Perth and Hobart and Brisbane and some of the fine inland towns less well provided for.—Westminster Gazette.

CANINE JUSTICE.

Eskimo Dogs Seem to Have Laws of Their Own.

In his voyage of polar exploration Commander Fiala observed among his dogs a sort of government quite independent of that of their keepers. They were of the Eskimo variety and were trained to work in teams. In their general conduct, however, they acted as a community, and their rules had reference to the common good. There was no penalty less than that of death.

During the period of darkness we lost eight dogs. Three of them, splendid large animals, were killed by their companions. The other five either wandered off on the young ice and were blown away or were killed by the pack at a distance from camp. Every dog was known by name.

It is a curious fact that when one dog has antagonized the others the only way to save him from destruction later on is to chain him. Then the other dogs let him alone. Unfortunately for us, the dogs that seemed to incur the enmity of their fellows were the large, strong animals, the bullies and fighters.

There seemed to be a degree of justice in their judgments. From close observation I found that the dogs generally forgave a bite on the head or body, but that an attack on the legs seemed to be considered foul play and must be paid for by the life of the offending canine. The whole pack united in his execution.—Youth's Companion.

VIRTUE IN SMOKING.

One Man Who Now Has an Argument Handy For His Wife.

The wife of a Topeka man objects strenuously because her husband is a confirmed smoker. He is never happy without a cigar or a pipe. The other morning she gave him a ten dollar bill and told him to buy several things for her. He pushed the bill into his coat pocket and rushed out of the house to catch a car.

He found that he had to wait a few minutes at the corner, for the cars were off schedule that morning, and then he proceeded to light a cigar. But he found no matches—all of his pockets were bare of them. Suddenly he happened to think that he also missed the ten dollar bill. A hurried search disclosed that it was gone.

He turned right about and retraced his steps. Just as he got in front of his home he happened to look into the street, and there was that "ten" tumbling around in the wind. His wife saw him go and pick it up, and she demanded an explanation. He promptly told her how looking for a match had caused him to discover that he had lost the bill.

"Now tell me there isn't any virtue in smoking?" he snorted as he puffed out his chest.—Kansas City Journal.

Where Women Do All the Work.

The smallest dependency of France is the Ile d'Hoedie, situated at the east of Belle Isle. Its population is 200. They do not speak French, except the cure and the schoolmaster, but Celtic, and they are provided with food at an inn managed by the women. Fishing is the principal industry. The profits are shared out each year among the inhabitants. The men live on soup and fish and smoke pipes with lobster claws for stems. The women do all the hard work—get in the harvest, look out for wreckage and gather seaweed, from which they extract soda. The town has no streets. The houses are of mud. The islanders have a yearly feast in the early part of October. The island possesses a good water supply. The governing body is composed of the ten ancients of the place under the direction of the cure.

HEADQUARTERS FOR THE DIAMOND LINE.

He Was Acting.

Stephen Phillips, the dramatist and poet, began life as a member of F. R. Benson's repertoire company. An amusing story is told of his debut. Mr. Benson had told him that the great thing for an actor is to act. "It does not matter," he continued, "so much what the words are which the actor speaks as the impression which he conveys to the audience by those words." They gave Mr. Phillips the part of Balthazar in "Romeo and Juliet." On the first night Balthazar managed the first line of his part and then forgot the rest. Romeo, in the person of Mr. Benson, had to go to his assistance and speak the rest of the part for him, while Balthazar exhibited an agony of speechless grief. "What do you mean," Mr. Benson afterward demanded, "by going on the stage without knowing your part?" "I was only doing what you told me. You said the great thing on the stage was not so much the words you speak as to act. Well, I was acting!"—London Tit-Bits.

He Was Wise.

"It seems queer that she ever took a fancy to him. He isn't at all the kind of man one would expect her to admire."

"I know, but he always had a way of noticing it when she happened to have on a new hat or a gown that had just come from the dressmaker's."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Malay Race Not Dying Out.

There is a very common idea that the Malay is a race that is dying out, killed in its own country by the enterprise of Chinese, Tamils, Javanese (who, however, are kinsmen of the Malays) and Europeans. To those who come out east expecting to find a few miserable remains of a once powerful race, whose probable fate is that of the Australian aborigines, it comes as a revelation to find a sturdy, independent and courteous race, whose language runs from Suez to Australia and who, so far from dying out, are yearly becoming more numerous.—Java Times.

direct primary law. When the matter was voted upon some years ago the vote was almost 8 to 1 in favor of a primary law and he is of the opinion that the people have not since changed their minds.

The people in general want a primary law for nearly two-thirds of the states in the nation today have direct primary laws on the statute books.

What makes it so difficult to draft a law which the supreme court will declare good, is the peculiar constitution of the state. Illinois has a constitution vastly different from other states. This is true especially with the minority representative feature, the cumulative voting feature.

This particular difficulty may be overcome by grafting a bill providing for the nomination of the members of the lower house of the legislature, making two laws, yet having the voters vote upon such proposition on the same day the primary in general is held. That may be a solution of the only feature in any of the future laws which the higher court may declare unconstitutional.

A direct primary law is Gov. Deen's idea. The senator knows this for he speaks for the administration.

A primary law is a movement of unrest among political leaders. It is a movement toward better government. Such movements are bound to occur in nations that grow. Growing nations will always have to contend with problems of government. These problems in question must be settled by the people.

Delegate System Expensive.

Both the delegate system and the direct primaries were thoroughly discussed by the speaker.

The question of expense seems to be one of the paramount objections to a primary law. It is too expensive for the candidate to conduct a campaign under a direct primary law. The believers of this idea who want a primary law, favor a delegate system.

The senator proved beyond question that the delegate system would be more expensive than the direct law. It would require money to get the township delegates in line, then it will come to getting the county delegates and so on down the line. Money spent in this endeavor is money spent legitimately as far as all money expended in campaigns is legitimate.

By using judgment a candidate for any state office can make each county a visit, make his speech and meet some of the people. The press of that particular county will be likely to publish a fairly good account of his remarks and in this wise the voters can decide if he is the man they desire in the office he seeks.

He gave as an example, the brief but effective campaign of Congressman Foss, who opposed Hopkins for U. S. senator. Foss visited but few counties and the count of the vote showed that he made a most effective campaign and had he the time to get over the state the chances are he might have been victorious. Foss did not spend a great deal of money.

Under the present system of nominating the people speak first and the leaders last. That is, the people select the delegates to conventions and the leaders make the slate and the delegate is pulled into line. As a rule the delegate does not know the makeup of the slate until he reaches the convention.

Now, under a primary law: The leaders put their candidates into the limelight and then the people act. In other words under the primary law the leaders speak first and the people last.

That would seem like a step toward bettering conditions.

Believes Legislators Favor.

Senator Jones believes a majority of the legislators favor a direct primary law and it is his opinion that the special session will be able to pass a direct primary law which will be pronounced good by the higher court.

Attorney A. C. Bardwell raised the question that under a direct primary system the people are compelled to vote for men of whom they know nothing, aside from what paid newspapers print of them.

This was answered by the senator in this wise: This matter of acquaintance of the candidate is due to population.

There are leagues in the state doing good work along this particular line. The Legislative Voters league keeps a true record of each man's record in the legislature; the civic leagues make it their business to give the voters light with reference to the general makeup of the men who seek any of the other state offices. By giving these reports from these leagues some careful attention the voter can come to some understanding as to the fitness of the candidate.

Others Who Spoke.

Others who voiced their sentiments on the problem of primary legislation were Attorneys A. C. Warner, Henry S. Dixon, E. H. Brewster and E. E. Wingert. Messrs. Warner and Dixon gave the audience to understand that they in no wise favored a primary law. Mr. Warner especially. Mr. Dixon did admit, however, that a primary law in part might do good, but he does not favor a direct primary law. He has no objection to the people nominating the head of the state ticket.

Messrs. Brewster and Wingert are much in favor of a direct primary, especially the latter. It is a question in Mr. Brewster's mind if it would be policy to include in the law the state candidates. Mr. Wingert believes that two out of every three voters in Lee county favor a primary law.

ODD FELLOWS AND REBEKAHS DO MUCH CHARITY WORK

CHARITIES GIVEN CONSIDERATION AT STATE MEETING JUST CLOSED.

O. B. Anderson, Dr. C. A. Robbins and Mrs. W. G. Kent returned last evening from the sessions of the grand lodge of Rebekahs and Odd Fellows of Illinois. The session was one of the largest in the history of the order. Charity was dispensed conservatively but judiciously, as was shown by the action of the grand lodge in appropriating $1,000 for the relief of the sufferers from the mine disaster at Cherry, to be distributed through the Red Cross society. From the Rebekah Assembly there was also a contribution for the same purpose. As far as is known, there were no members of the order in the disaster, and neither was there any lodge at Cherry. For the maintenance of the Old Folks' home at Mattoon and the Orphans' home at Lincoln $50,000 was allotted to be equally divided between the two institutions.

The movement for the establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium, which was brought before the meeting for the sovereign grand lodge at its meeting in Seattle in September, met with hearty approval of the lodge this week and the Illinois delegates to the next annual meeting of the sovereign grand lodge which will be held in Atlanta, were instructed to lend their aid in behalf of the movement to stamp out the ravages of the Great White Plague.

BROTHER OF E. E. FISCHER DIED IN IOWA NOV. 1.

BERNARD FISCHER WAS AN OLD SETTLER OF MARION TOWNSHIP.

Edward E. Fischer has returned from Greenmont, Ia., where he has been for the past four weeks and where Nov. 4th he attended the funeral of his brother, Bernard Fischer who died Nov. 1st.

Bernard Fischer was an old settler of Marion township, this county. He was a native of Mittelhausen, near Erfurt, Saxony, Germany, where he was born Dec. 2, 1824. He received his schooling in Germany and joined the Lutheran church there. He came to this country in 1847, settling at Dixon and working at farming. In 1853 he went to California prospecting for gold, and returned in 1858 and bought a farm in Marion township upon which he lived and worked until 1880 when he moved with his family to Yankton, S. D., and later to Greenmont, Marshall county, Iowa, where he lived until his death. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Eliza B. Glaesen, to whom he was married in 1862. They had three children, Mrs. Augusta D. Semple of Yankton, S. D.; Frank B. Fischer of Greenmont, Ia., and Robert, who died in infancy. Three brothers survive him, Edward E., of Dixon; Julius of Yankton, S. D.; and Emil F. of Kampen, Holland, and one sister, Mrs. Dora M. Holzhaus of Germany.

JUDGESHIP CONTEST NARROWS TO THREE

APPOINTMENT STANDS BETWEEN MORRISON, CARPENTER OR CUTTING.

DIXON MAN'S CHANCE IS GOOD

Rivalry at the Capital is Warming
Up—Cullom Favors Mr.
Morrison.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Developments here Friday indicate that the field of candidates from which President Taft will appoint a new United States district judge in Chicago has narrowed down to three entries. They are:

Charles B. Morrison, special United States attorney and formerly district attorney at Chicago.

George A. Carpenter, chief justice of the circuit court of Cook county.

Charles S. Cutting, judge of the Cook county probate court.

Each of these candidates now has ambassadors at the capital and the rivalry is warming up perceptibly. Two distinguished members of the Chicago bar, one of whom himself has been mentioned as a good man for the place, were here Friday presenting the claims of Judge Carpenter. Mr. Morrison was here a couple of weeks ago looking over the situation and he is expected here again within a fortnight. Judge Cutting is backed by the department of justice.

It is the general supposition that Senator Cullom favors the appointment of Mr. Morrison, whose political career he has fathered since its inception. If, however, Mr. Morrison should withdraw his name from consideration or should be given some other post of equal or greater importance, the senator would be free to recommend some other candidate.

Speaker Shurtleff has been dropped from consideration.

INTESTESTING CASE TRIED BCFGE JUSTICE COLE

W. B. CASH ATTACHES MONEY IN THE HANDS OF LOCAL ATTORNEYS.

Thursday in Justice H. R. Cole's court there was tried an interesting civil case. In this case W. B. Cash was the plaintiff and Mrs. Clara May Hayes of Chicago was defendant. Cash had attached money in the hands of Brooks & Brooks, which it is said belonged to Mrs. Hayes but was claimed by Cash. Attorney W. H. Winn appeared for Mr. Cash and George C. Dixon of the firm of Dixon & Dixon, represented the defendant. Attorney Roy Gilbert of Chicago and Mrs. McCauley of Chicago were witnesses in the case.

The case was hard fought and some very sensational letters were read and permitted to enter the case as evidence.

Justice Cole has taken the matter under advisement until next Monday.

INQUEST HELD OVER REMAINS OF TRAIN VICTIM

BODY BROUGHT TO DIXON AND WAS BURIED IN OAKWOOD TODAY.

The coroner's inquest over the remains of Harry Stine, the tramp who was killed at Nelson yesterday was held at Nelson. The train crew of freight No. 120 was present and testified and his pal was also one of the witnesses. The verdict was that he met his death accidentally by being struck by freight No. 120. The railroad company was exonerated. His body was brought to Dixon and the Gonnerman undertaking rooms last evening and the interment will take place in Oakwood cemetery this afternoon. His pal was a boy of 17 years of age and the claim agent of the Northwestern gave him money to pay his fare home to Peoria and gave him good advice about bumming on railroads and that if he continued that mode of living he would meet his death sooner or later.

Dramatic Notes

Star Theatre.

The new vaudeville acts at the Star are very good. Colling & LaMoss, comedy acrobats, perform very clever tricks in a humorous way. One trick, where LaMoss balances himself upon a pile of ordinary cigar boxes, in a difficult position, is especially good, though apparently dangerous.

Miss Rose Elliott has a freshness and originality about her song and dance act that appealed strongly to the crowded houses last evening. Her dancing is very neat and her singing is out of the ordinary, which aided by beautiful costumes, gave more than satisfaction. The same vaudeville bill will be presented to night. Special pictures.

OFFICIALS AWAIT ZELAYA'S REPLY

Shooting of Americans Causes a Tense Situation.

CHARGE AGAINST THE TWO MEN

Attempted to Blow Up Troop Transports by Use of Dynamite—Everything Will Depend Upon the Method Pursued by the Americans in Their Attack on Zelaya's Forces—Shooting Recalls Ryan's Execution in Cuba.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A tense situation exists as the result of the execution of the two Americans, Leroy Cannon and Leonard Grace, in Nicaragua by order of President Zelaya, pending an explanation.

It is fairly assumed that the press dispatches received from Managua are accurate in the statement that the men were shot after a court-martial on a charge that they had attempted, by the use of dynamite mines, to blow up some of President Zelaya's troop transports.

If the department advises confirm this story, the question at issue will be whether the charge against the men, assuming that it is proved, justified their execution.

Probably everything will depend on the method pursued by Cannon and Grace in their attacks on Zelaya's forces.

If it should appear that the Americans slipped within the lines of the government forces under disguise when they planted their mines they might be regarded as spies, and subject to summary execution.

But if they engaged in their work openly, it will probably be held that they should have been treated as prisoners of war, on the theory that an attack on a ship by a mine is a legitimate act of lawful war. In the latter case there is no doubt that President Zelaya will be called to account and ample reparation demanded.

The shooting of the Americans and the resulting international complications recall the thrilling events of the ten-year war in Cuba when the Spanish government executed summarily General Ryan and a number of other Americans who were captured and charged with filibustering.

At that time American feeling was aroused and a number of United States vessels were ordered to Cuban waters. An immediate outbreak of war between the United States and Spain was averted only by the prompt apology of Spain for the action of the Cuban captain-general and by the payment of indemnity to families of the victims.

SEA FIGHT IN PROSPECT

Armed Steamer Will Try to Pass the Estrada Gunboats.

New Orleans, Nov. 20.—The steamer Imperator has left New Orleans for Greytown, Nicaragua, heavily laden with arms, ammunition and supplies for President Zelaya's forces.

The Imperator will attempt to run the blockade of Greytown which the Estrada revolutionary government has set up. The steamer carries several six inchers and probably will engage in battle with the Estrada gunboats.

DEATH SUMMONS EDITOR LAFFAN

New York Sun Man Dies Following an Operation.

WAS BORN IN DUBLIN IN 1848

Deceased Began His Newspaper Career in This Country at the Age of Nineteen—For Seven Years He Has Stood in the Place of Charles A. Dana, With Whom He Was on the Most Friendly Terms—Authority on Fine Arts and Architecture.

New York, Nov. 20.—William M. Laffan, publisher of the New York Sun, died at his home in Long Island, following an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Laffan was born in Dublin Jan. 22, 1848. He was educated in the Irish metropolis. Coming to America as a youth, he began his career as a newspaper man at the age of nineteen. In 1872 he married Georgiana Ratcliff, the daughter of Judge Daniel Ratcliff of Baltimore. He was an authority on fine arts, architecture and ceramics.

In a recent magazine article, Will Laffan, formerly of the Sun staff, wrote of Laffan as follows: "For seven years Laffan, the publisher, has stood in Dana's place. From the time when he came on as art critic he was the best of friends with 'the old man,' as the Sun will know Dana until his generation is dead. Their lunches in the office, alone with the office cat, were an institution in many capacities. He was business manager when he took over the publication of the paper.

"The world knows him best, perhaps, for those little sarcastic editorials which stick like burrs under the collars of the Sun's enemies. One traces him, too, in the fighting capacity of the Sun editorial page, which makes other newspapers dread to get into war with the Sun as greyhounds, bloodhounds, retrievers and spaniels avoid trouble with a bull terrier. He is a pugnacious Irishman whose words carry darts when he speaks, a lover of all the arts and a collector in one."

But in view of a recent decision by the New York court of appeals that oral betting is legal, District Attorney Donohue, whose jurisdiction includes the course, says he will not interfere with New York methods.

PANAMA CANAL ZONE DAMAGED BY FLOODS

Natives Fear Town Will Slide Into Cut For Big Ditch.

Panama, Nov. 20.—Continuous rains have done considerable damage and are interfering with work on the Panama canal. The storm has been the most disastrous since 1906. The Charges river is reported to have risen twenty feet and a further rise is predicted.

Troops between Colon and Panama is interrupted. The canal cut is flooded, and a number of steam shovels are partly submerged. Natives in the flooded area are seeking refuge on the tops of their houses. The residents of Culebra are moving out owing to the danger of the place sliding into the cut.

SUGAR CRAFTERS LOSE THEIR JOBS

Loeb Continues to Use His Ax in New York Customs House.

NO IMMUNITY FOR INFORMERS

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh Assured That Guilty Ones Who Seek to Save Themselves by Telling What They Know About Others Will Not Get Protection—Federal Attorney Won't Say Whether Criminal Prosecutions Are Contemplated.

New York, Nov. 20.—The weeding out from the customs service of the men who have been implicated in the sugar frauds and other schemes to cheat the government, but against whom no evidence of actual commission of crime has been obtained, is going on earnestly. Collector Loeb has announced the discharge of James P. Vall, formerly deputy surveyor in charge of the weighing division, George E. Bedell, an inspector and formerly chief clerk in charge of the same division; James P. Hyland and Joseph O'Carroll, foremen of weighing districts, and eighteen other weighers and gaugers.

As far as could be learned the men granted immunity and a retention of their jobs for testifying against Philip Musica at his trial for cheating the government out of duties on cheese, are included among the men whose heads have been dropped into the basket.

Whether or not any of the discharged employees will have to face criminal charges later is a question which both Loeb and United States Attorney Stimson refuse to answer.

James F. Vall considers that in being dismissed he has been saddled with the sins of others. He refused to say anything further than this except to refer to the fact that he had served the government faithfully for twenty-two years and had never been accused of dishonesty.

Wilbur P. Wakeman, the ex-appraiser who made a fight for the reinstatement of Henry C. Corsa, who did detective work at the Jersey sugar docks and was dismissed after he had given his information to the treasury department, says that it is useless for him to reply to George W. Whitehead or former Secretary of the Treasury Shaw. Both Shaw and Whitehead have issued statements saying that they knew little or nothing about Corsa's removal. Wakeman says that the facts of the case are familiar to the public.

Protection Denied Informing Grafters. Washington, Nov. 20.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh says that when he was in New York he was given assurances by the federal officers that there would not be any more promises to retain dishonest employees on the federal payroll in consideration of confessions from them implicating other persons in frauds.

CHURCH TRICKERY CHARGED

Mrs. Stetson's Friends Say She Was Victim of a Boston Plot.

New York, Nov. 20.—Friends of Mrs. Augusta Stetson are predicting a general reorganization in the board of trustees of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, as a result of her excommunication.

Some of her followers charged that Mrs. Stetson had been tricked into the power of her enemies in Boston by promises of her vindication and that it was in this belief that she admitted that she had taught error.

Some of her friends in the First church are discussing the possibilities of a new church being formed under Mrs. Stetson's leadership.

DEATH THREAT FOR RICH MEN

Letters Sent to Belmont, Ryan, Gates, Duke and Others.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A plot originating in Spain to assassinate a number of well known American financiers was brought to light here through a series of letters sent to the various stock exchanges.

Frederick D. Countiss declared he received three startling letters during the past month.

Others threatened were James B. Duke, John B. Cobb, C. C. Dula, Pierre Lorillard, George Arens, August Belmont, Thomas F. Ryan and John W. Gates.

GOOD WORD FOR BELGIUM

Report That Cruelties in the Congo Are Fabrications Only.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Henry Lane Wilson, American minister to Belgium, has sent to the department of state a report which denies charges of cruelty or oppression in the Congo. It is declared that after a searching examination of missionaries, officials, chiefs and many natives nothing had been found.

Occasionally, the report says, there were breaches of the law for which guilty persons were punished promptly.

Prohibition Fee Breaks Rocks.

Bellefonte, Ill., Nov. 20.—James F. Berry of Peoria, Ill., an anti-prohibition lecturer, is breaking rocks at the Bellefonte jail, after having refused to pay a $100 fine for drunkenness.

A Broad Discrimination.

There is an elder of a certain church up-State who thinks that things are only half done or not well started in which he has no voice. At a prayer meeting he offered thanks for the safe return from their vacation of the minister and his wife. With proper dignity and in a loud voice he said: "O Lord, we thank Thee for bringing our pastor safe home, and his dear wife, too, O Lord, for Thou preservest man and beast."—Success Magazine.

ONE-SIDED.

"Gee! This'd be a excitin' game of 'I spy' if Mom wasn't 'it' all the time."

He Got the Key.

Miss Dresswell had just returned after spending a week with a country friend. Imagine her consternation when she discovered her previously well stocked wardrobe empty. "Gracious, George!" she said to her brother, "where are all my clothes? And what in the world is that great black patch on the lawn?" George met her gaze unflinchingly. "Maria," he replied consolingly, "you wrote to me that if I wanted the key of the billiard room I should find it in the pocket of your bolero."

"Yes, yes."

"Well, I don't know a bolero from a fichu or a boxpleat, so I took all he things to the lawn and burned them. Then I recovered the key from the ashes."—Boston American.

An Unhappy Recollection.

Mrs. Kragg—I see they have just celebrated the centenary of Mendelssohn.

Mr. Kragg—I've always felt a prejudice against that fellow.

Mrs. Kragg—Why?

Mr. Kragg—Every time I hear the unfounded wedding march I think of our wedding!—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Quite So.

"What are the rounds in the ladder of fame?"

"It all depends. To an actor, for instance, they are rounds of applause."

Plenty of Gossip.

"Going away this summer?"

"I suppose so, but it really seems useless. There's a good deal of scandal right around home just now."

TOO SOON TO TELL.

"Are there any fish in there, Claude?"

"How do I know? I only been fishing here about two weeks."

The Price of Proficiency.

"Doctor," growled the patient, "it seems to me that $500 is a big charge for that operation of mine. I didn't take you over half a minute."

"My dear sir," replied the famous specialist, "in learning to perform that operation in half a minute I have spoiled over 11 pecks of such yes as yours."—Success Magazine.

Dad Advises.

"So you want to be a poet?"

"Yes; the English language is my working capital."

"Well, you can string words together and make poetry out of 'em, or you can utilize 'em in other directions. They'll pay heap bigger dividends, for instance, bunched together in a legal opinion."

A Neighborhood Row.

"What's all this continual trouble among the Balkan states?"

"It's this way. Some of them Balkan kings are making garden."

"Making garden?"

"Yes; and other of them Balkan kings insists on keeping chickens."

Be Neighborly.

"Forget your troubles now and then. Your daily cares."

and lend an ear while other men Unburden theirs.

Bound to Get it.

The Lady—I want to return the parrot you sold me. She's dreadfully profane.

The Dealer—But she only swears in Spanish. Can you understand that?

The Lady—No—I had to hire an interpreter to tell me what she said.

A SIMPLE EXCUSE.

Woodson—I must say, old man, I'm surprised at you. Why are you watering your garden today?

Bronson—Because the plants need it.

Woodson—But don't you know this is the Sabbath?

Bronson—Yes, but the plants don't know it.

A Talented Salesman.

Fair Customer—Is this real antique?

Furniture Dealer—A—er—modern revival and—er—evolution of an ancient court style, madam.

Fair Customer (doubtfully)—What kind of wood is it?

Dealer (impressively)—Wood? Madam, this is the wood that poets have raved over when alluding to the music of nature; it is the wood that first greeted the eyes of the weary Columbus as the mighty trees, rich in verdure, bent beneath the snow; it is the wood that even now attracts invalids to the forests where it grows. It is pine, madam—genuine pine.

Two Judges.

A western judge, sitting in chambers, seeing from the piles of papers in the lawyer's hands that the first case was likely to be hotly contested asked:

"What is the amount in question?"

"Two dollars," said the plaintiff's counsel.

"I'll pay it," said the judge, handing over the money; "call the next case."

He had not the patience of Sir William Grant, who after listening for two days to the arguments of counsel as to the construction of a certain act, quietly observed when they had done: "That act has been repealed."

HIS EXCUSE.

President of Charity Organization—You gave that play for charity and yet we hardly got anything.

Theatrical Manager—Well, my company is such a poor lot of players that I gave it to them. Charity begins at home, you know.

The other day an important looking gentleman took a seat beside a quiet man in a western railway car and began a conversation.

"I'm going to the capital," he said, "to get a pardon for a convicted thief. I'm not personally acquainted with the governor, but he can't afford to refuse me."

"Is the fellow guilty?" asked the man.

"Of course he is; but that makes no difference. His friends have agreed to give me $500 if I get him out, and the thermometer is very low when I can't put up a good talk. Where are you traveling?"

"Going to the capital, too."

"Do you live there?"

"Yes."

"Perhaps you might be of some service to me. What business are you in?"

"I'm the governor."—The Standard.

The Test.

"The ancients had some superb, masterful men; Hannibal, Alexander, Antony, Caesar."

"Yes, none of 'em ever had to try to run a furnace."

Nothing Suits Us.

"Ears are all right to hook spectacles over."

"Well?"

"But they interfere with these high dollars that the girls want to wear."

In Other Days.

"That drug clerk must be very old."

"Yes, he's an old timer. He claims to have seen a prescription once."

Foot, Mon!

All was still. As the morning broke, the milkman could be faintly seen distributing bottles on bottles at the various porches, and on the window sills, while the tenants slept calmly and peacefully.

Suddenly a wild squawk, a grunt and a yell, as if somebody or something were in a death agony, was heard. This was continued for five minutes until all along the street a signal of nightdresses and pajamas ran. The milkman's horse bolted; a small boy, glad of the chance, sent in a fire alarm; some ran for a doctor, and a policeman, waking from a stupor, dashed to the spot from which the noise came.

The fire engine came rushing up, but in vain. The firemen could find no trace of smoke, or any sort of a blaze. Then, as suddenly as they had begun, the sounds died away. The firemen drove off in a huff; the doctor used language that would not be tolerated in any drawing room; the milkman leisurely went after his horse, and the policeman was on the point of resuming his sleep, when again did the unearthly noises swell out louder and fuller than before.

All listened. Then the policeman made a dash up the stairs of a neighboring apartment house. On the fifth story he stopped and hammered on a door, whence the sounds apparently proceeded.

"Well, wat t'ell d'ye want?" came from the inside.

"Want?" answered the policeman "what do you want waking up the neighborhood at this hour in the morning with that noise?"

A laugh came in return, and then: "It was vera guld music, mon Weel, weel, she'll blow no more 'till after breakfast."

And Sandy McPherson, who had but lately arrived from his native land, put his bagpipe away, wondering the while why his music was not appreciated.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

THE CITY OF IT.

Josh—It's too bad.
Bosh—What's too bad?
Josh—That our neighbors always know when we have fried onions for supper, but never get next when we have strawberries and ice cream.

Jocular Mr. Stubb.

Mrs. Stubb—Dear me! I think it's a shame. I wonder why the railroad company insists upon my pet bulldog riding in the baggage car?

Mr. Stubb (with chuckle)—Appropriate place for him, Maria. You know, bulldogs carry grips.—Chicago News.

Test of Realism.

Playwright—Is her acting natural? Manager (enthusiastically)—Natural? Why, when she appeared as the dying mother last night an insurance agent who has her life insured for five thousand pounds and who was in the audience, actually fainted.—Tit-Bits.

Another Excuse.

The foolish man had just killed the goose that laid the golden egg.

"Why did you kill it?" asked the friends.

"I killed it because its 'honk-honk' sounded so much like an automobile I couldn't sleep," grumbled the foolish man.—Chicago News.
